JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP) — Bands of young Negroes, hurling gasoline bombs, bricks and bottles at policemen, surged through Jersey City streets again Monday night in a riot that left two Negroes shot and 16 other persons injured.

Police arrested seven Negroes on disorderly persons charges, bringing to 20 the number of arrests since the fighting broke out Sunday night.

Early today, the hit-and-run bands retreated from the streets, but more than 100 policemen still patrolled a wide area of the predominantly Negro section in the southern part of the city.

Windows in a score of stores were smashed and some businesses looted in the latest outbreak.

At a midnight press conference more than three hours after the riot began, Mayor Thomas J. Whelan said he believed the violence had "passed its peak."

But he reiterated his warning: "We will use all the force and power at our disposal to see that law and order is maintained."

He said he was prepared to sit down with civil rights leaders "anytime, anywhere" but the first problem was maintaining order.

Whelan said the situation in Jersey City, across the Hudson River from New York City, was one of "hooliganism versus law and order." The city has 275,000 residents, 17 per cent of whom are Negroes.

The two Negroes who were shot and a white man dragged from his truck and stabbed by Negroes were the only persons kept at Jersey City Medical Center. All three were in good condition. Two patrolmen, including one who suffered a fractured ankle, were among the 15 injured who were treated and released.

The Negroes were identified as Louis Mitchell, 19, and John Dudley, 21. Mitchell was wounded in the neck and shoulder and had a flesh wound on the forearm.

The white man was Harry Schultz, 66, who had four stab wounds in the back, the hospital reported.

Authorities said they could not determine immediately how they had been shot.

Monday night's riot broke out about 8:45 p.m. as Negro leaders were meeting with Mayor Whelan and other city officials at City Hall. The meeting ended when reports of the riot reached the mayor's office. A Negro leader said nothing was accomplished at the meeting.

The trouble began, police said, when Negroes hurled rocks at passing cars at Grand and Woodward streets, near the scene of the fighting Sunday night.

Some youths standing on the roof of a two-story apartment building bombarded a police car with bricks while their colleagues on street level tried to overturn another police vehicle.

Police escorted buses through the area and fired several shots in the air. A crowd of over 100

Dirksen Moves Apportionment Bill Faster

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Everett M. Dirksen moved today for speedy committee action on a bill under which states could state off for two years or more court-ordered legislative reapportionment.

Dirksen, the Senate Republican leader, predicted quick approval of the measure by the Senate Judiciary Committee. Once he gets that, he said, he will try to attach to it a bill certain to reach President Johnson.

If it becomes law, the bill would permit states or citizens to obtain stays on court-directed reapportionments until the end of the second session of their next legislature.

Federal courts have ordered several states to reapportion both bodies of their legislatures on the basis of the one-man-one-vote rule laid down by the Supreme Court in a series of decisions June 15.

Most state senates are apportioned geographically. The effect of the high court's order would be to give cities greater representation in state legislatures and to reduce the influence of rural areas.

Dirksen said time is needed for Congress to consider a proposed constitutional amendment that would upset the court's order. Such an amendment would have to be approved by three-fourths of the state legislatures to become effective.

Dirksen told the Senate Monday he had served notice on President Johnson Thursday of his intentions. Asked by newsmen what Johnson's attitude was, Dirksen replied:

"I didn't try to commit him in any way. I just wanted him to know what I was planning to do."

The GOP leader said he believes he will have almost solid Republican support for his proposal and can attract enough Democratic support to attach it to some other legislation Johnson would find difficult to veto.

Germany Tops Nikita's List

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Khrushchev has again put Germany at the top of his list of unsettled cold war issues.

Without the "achievement of a German peace settlement," there can be no additional relaxation of East-West tensions, the Soviet leader said Monday.

Khrushchev was interviewed by Pravda and Izvestia in connection with the first anniversary of the signing of the limited nuclear test ban treaty. He said the pact had brought a "store of trust" between the cold war adversaries.

He called for an international agreement renouncing force in territorial disputes.

"It is necessary to suppress the breeding grounds of tension in the Caribbean, in Southeast Asia, in Cyprus and the Arab peninsula," said Khrushchev.

Trapped French Miners Brought Safely To Top

THIS FARM, located on a mountainside near Champagnole, France, serves as the headquarters for the rescue team of 500 troops and civilian workers in the attempt to save nine trapped miners. Emile Jacques owns the farm, and two of his sons were among the miners who had been trapped for more than a week in the limestone mine. (AP Wirephoto)

Spend Week 250 Feet Down

By DORIAN FALK
CHAMPAGNOLE, France AP — The first of nine miners trapped since July 27 in a limestone mine was brought safely to the surface today.

A metal rescue capsule rose slowly to the surface from a depth of about 250 feet where the miners have waited to be freed.

They were trapped by a fall of rock, and rescue teams worked day and night to free them.

The first man out was Andre Jacques, 28.

A hot sun blazed down on the tree-studded mountainside where the lift derrick towered above the escape hatch drilled into the rocky ground.

Dark glasses were fitted over Jacques' eyes as he stepped from the rescue capsule into the sunlight after a week of gloom with only artificial lighting.

He was taken to a military ambulance which sped off toward a hospital.

He appeared to be in good health but seemed dazed and for a moment held his hands over his eyes until the dark glasses were fitted over his eyes.

Eight other ambulances stood by to take each man to the hospital for a physical check and for reunion with families.

Although Jacques stood up in the capsule, he was put on a stretcher and carried to the ambulance.

A giant drill punched through to the entombed miners early this afternoon. Jacques came to the surface about three hours later.

Mine officials said the 23-inch drill ground through the final shell of rock shortly before 1 p.m. without causing rock to fall on the men.

Workers who had labored for backbreaking hours in the rescue effort at Mt. Rivel rushed forward as the drill suddenly dropped several yards. It had been inching slowly downward in final stages of the rescue effort to avoid collapsing the ceiling of the mine chamber.

Immediately after the breakthrough, rescue workers began setting up a hoisting rig to be used to bring the men to the surface one at a time in a special metal capsule.

One of the largest gorillas in captivity, the 6-foot, 500-pound Sinbad slipped out of his cage Monday and romped through 20 minutes of freedom, his first since coming to Lincoln Park Zoo in 1948 as an infant.

Sinbad confined his wanderings to the inner corridor of the monkey house, but alarmed zoo officials evacuated 75 persons from the building and called for the police riot squad.

At one time only a screen door separated the powerful animal from complete freedom.

"If he had come out we would have had to have him killed," said Gene Hartz, assistant zoo director. "There was nothing to keep him in but a screen door and he could have taken it right along with him."

Hartz eventually felled Sinbad by firing a 200-milligram dose of tranquilizer into his shoulder.

Five hours after the injection Sinbad was up and around.

"He'll have a pretty bad hangover but that's about all," Hartz said.

Sinbad's freedom began after a keeper momentarily left his cage door open while cleaning. The gorilla lumbered down a hallway into a kitchen where four workers were fixing lunch for animals in the monkey house.

"I never had an ape in my kitchen before," said Barney Gisuti, 54. "I looked twice. Then I went out the front door."

Would Drop Tax On Food Sales

REED CITY (AP) — George N. Higgins, Gov. George W. Romney's rival for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, reiterated Monday night that if elected he would remove the state's four per cent sales tax from food consumed at home.

The Ferndale auto dealer addressed Osceola County Republicans here in a campaign swing designed to take him to Marquette today and Negaunee tonight. He is to speak at Houghton Copper Harbor Wednesday.

The former state senator renewed his ridicule of Romney's claim to being a "no tax governor," saying that "with a $48 million surplus in Lansing, it is time we give those in low income tax brackets a break by taking the sales tax off the food they consume at home."

Uncle Sam's Employees To Get Fatter Checks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Practically all of Uncle Sam's employees — from Congressmen to postmen and servicemen — are assured of fatter pay checks.

Congress approved Monday, and President Johnson is expected to sign quickly, a $207 million pay raise for the military.

And Senate and House conferees reached agreement on a $556 million increase for the 1.7 million classified civil service and postal workers, and top government officials, Congress members and federal judges.

The House plans to act today on the civil pay bill, which carries annual raises of $7,500 for congressmen and $10,000 for Cabinet officials. The Senate was expected to act later in the day or Wednesday.

The increases for the armed forces, to take effect the first of next month, will be their second in a year as part of the new policy of reviewing servicemen's pay scales every year.

The House Armed Services Committee told the House it had omitted boosts for draftees and newly enlisted men because they are in training status and because they will receive three or four increases in their first 11 months of service due to promotions.

The pay bill agreed on by Senate and House conferees would be retroactive to the first pay period after July 1 for all but the members of Congress and high-level congressional employees. They must wait until next January for their raises.

The President has strongly backed this measure, contending it is essential to retain key personnel in government.

The bill carries these annual increases:

$8,000 for the vice president and speaker of the House, which would raise them to $43,000.

$7,500 for members of Congress, to $30,000.

$10,000 for Cabinet officers, to $35,000.

Up to $7,000 for other government executives, with a scale of $26,000 to $30,000.

$4,500 for the nine Supreme Court justices, to $40,000 for the chief justice and $39,500 for the others, and $7,500 for all other federal judges, including a scale of $33,000 for those on the Court of Appeals.

Meyer told sheriff's officers he had been hiking and camping in Stinson Beach State Park since June 21, the day his truck was found parked on Mount Tamalpais.

Meyer, 41, said he left his home in San Mateo for a church convention in Portland last month, but changed his mind.

He said a day's hike to Stinson Beach proved so pleasant he took a sleeping bag and 25 boxes of C rations from his truck and hiked for six weeks through the park area.

After Meyer's truck was found, deputies and volunteers aided by bloodhounds, helicopters and airplanes searched the area for days.

Castro Tabbed As Instigator

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Former Cuban President Manuel Urrutia has accused Fidel Castro of having a hand in racial violence in the United States.

Urrutia, Castro's first chief executive, said Monday in an interview that the Cuban dictator "has from the start of his rule shown an interest in stirring up American Negroes."

"Now he maintains a regular English language broadcast from Havana designed to incite American Negroes to rebellion," he said.

Urrutia referred to "Radio Free Dixie," a broadcast by Robert Williams, Negro from Monroe, N.C., who fled to Cuba after being indicted on a kidnapping charge stemming from racial trouble.

Urrutia, who broke with Castro in 1960, announced plans to form a new anti-Castro party, to be called "Fighting Democratic Unity."

Police Seek Boat In Hit-Run Death

PONTIAC (AP) — Oakland County Sheriff's deputies and state police were systematically searching nearby Cass Lake today for a speedboat that reportedly struck and killed a 20-year-old swimmer Monday night.

Allan Louis Akerly, of Keego Harbor, died when struck in the swimming area of Dodge State Park No. 4.

Deputies said witnesses told them a brown and white inboard motorboat sped away without stopping. At least four men were reported aboard.

State police said it was unlikely that the boat left the lake because all launching sites were covered by officers.

The lake is regularly patrolled by a special Oakland County sheriff's boat patrol headed by Don Kratt.

Rhodesians Ban Wild Lumpa Sect

LUSAKA, Northern Rhodesia (AP) — Soldiers were airlifted today to Lundazi, where rampaging Lumpa warriors have massacred 150 persons. The troops were ordered to capture, dead or alive, the Lumpa leader, Prophetess Alice Lenshina.

Reports said the death toll from Monday's trail of terror and death through 18 villages might be higher because soldiers had not returned with information from Chinsali, one of the trouble spots.

The Northern Rhodesian government issued the "dead or alive" order as it temporarily outlawed the fanatic sect, whose rampages in the past 12 days have cost at least 270 lives.

Kaunda said he does not dispute the right of the Lumpas to their religious beliefs — a hodgepodge of African superstition, paganism and Church of Scotland theology — but he insisted on the restoration of order. He said he would lift the ban in about a month if the carnage ends.

Kaunda is trying desperately to bring peace to the central African country before it receives independence from Britain in 12 weeks.

Some 2,200 native troops under white officers are combating the bush for Lumpa prophetess Alice Lenshina, who founded the sect 11 years ago, claiming she had died and returned from Heaven.

Officials believe the terror at Lundazi, a market center 400 miles northeast of Lusaka, was in retaliation for the slaying of 75 Lumpas at the sect's headquarters at Sione Thursday.

The Lumpas died in a suicidal charge with spears and muzzle loaders against government riflemen.

Some 200 men and women sacked and destroyed 10 villages, attacked government offices and overran a police station in the Lundazi area Monday, a government spokesman said. Most of the victims were African villagers. Two Indian families and an African policeman also were killed, the spokesman said.

Kaunda told a party rally in Lusaka to leave repression of the Lumpas to his government. Vowing to avenge those slaughtered, Kaunda promised to give the sect "three times as much trouble" as it had given.

"There is something wrong with our nation," he said. "Part of us has stopped thinking, we have got to work hard to clean up this rubbish."

Alice, an African in her 40s who was reared in a strict Church of Scotland mission, is believed to have some 20,000 followers.

Gorilla Home, Has Hangover

CHICAGO (AP) — Sinbad the gorilla nursed a hangover today, just like anyone else not used to being out on the town.

One of the largest gorillas in captivity, the 6-foot, 500-pound Sinbad slipped out of his cage Monday and romped through 20 minutes of freedom, his first since coming to Lincoln Park Zoo in 1948 as an infant.

Sinbad confined his wanderings to the inner corridor of the monkey house, but alarmed zoo officials evacuated 75 persons from the building and called for the police riot squad.

Housewives Stop Tree Removal

ELMONT, N.Y. (AP) — Housewives pushing baby carriages have routed the tree choppers in the first skirmish over the shade trees of Evans Avenue.

Town officials of this Long Island community want to widen the streets, lined with oaks and elms that stand between the sidewalks and the pavement.

The women of Elmont, many of them refugees from the concrete canyons of New York City, want to preserve the greenery.

They moved out in force Monday.

Mrs. Charles Spanier stationed herself under a condemned tree, looked up at a workman and said:

"If you cut off one more branch, you'll have to drop it on my head to get rid of it."

The workman climbed down.

Pushing their infants in front of them, a dozen housewives led by Mrs. Hope Fox surrounded a truck that was to haul away the dismembered trees. They clogged Evans Avenue and, after an hour, forced the workmen to give up for the day.

Bowling Alley Drinking Chief Issue At Meet

The Michigan Liquor Control Commission meeting in its annual Upper Peninsula public session at the State Office Building Monday night found the temperature warm, but the public friendly.

There were very few suggestions for changes in the state's control of liquor sales, following an afternoon session of the commission with bowling alley proprietors of the U-P. They have problems of liquor control under their licenses which are mostly physical — caused by their building setups — Commission Chairman Don Leonard told the public meeting.

Leonard explained that liquor can be sold on bowling area concourses — the area behind the bowling establishment — if the chief of police and local government body approve such sales to the State Liquor Commission for licensing purposes. Leonard explained that at no place licensed by the state can a drinker carry a drink to a non-licensed part of the premises. Bowling is a family business now and complaints result when children at the bowling lanes frequent areas where liquor is served.

Leonard said the Liquor Commission met with a bowling industry advisory committee and learned it did not want settee area sales licensed because spilled drinks ruin the alleys. They did want sales in the spectator areas.

The physical setup of bowling establishments, said Leonard, determines the licenses. Some have ample space, some little back of the lanes; some lease bar space to other operators, some run their own bars. Bowling bars are licensed on an individual judgment.

Many bowling establishments have no bars. In 1962 a bill was introduced in the Legislature to prohibit licensing of bars in bowling alleys. "Unless we protect the public," said Leonard "we face the possibility of more regulatory legislation."

More than 60 persons attended the public meeting and heard Leonard report that the backlog of violation cases had been reduced by new procedures which permit an acknowledgment of guilt with right of appeal. This permits disposition of violation cases without hearing, while retaining the right to appeal if the licensee is aggrieved by commission action on his case. The appeal wasn't possible previously under acknowledgment procedures.

Leonard said that the pressures for more resort licenses had resulted in permission for the commission to grant 10 more a year for 5 years. They'll be given out to bona fide resorts under a formula in which aid to the economics of the area is a factor.

Sale to minors will be made more difficult by new varicolored driver license cards, and by photos of the licensee on driver licenses, but the photo process will take 3 years.

Rep. Clifford Perris (R-Nauvau) asked what aid could be given to U-P bars on the border of Wisconsin, which lets its bars stay open an hour longer than Michigan. He was told by Walter Noack, enforcement chief, that the 1947 legislature set Eastern Standard Time as the official time of Michigan and that present law was enacted to avoid chasing for late hour bar service.

Mickey Rooney, Dick Van Dyke To Be Opposites

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Come fall, it will be Mickey Rooney against Dick Van Dyke.

If television has a boot hill, it is network time periods opposite hit shows.

Perfectly good programs often die from lack of attention. Last season's victims included "The Judy Garland Show," overwhelmed by NBC's "Bonanza," and CBS' "Espionage," which never had a chance against CBS' "Beverly Hillsbillies."

This season ABC proposed to toss the veteran Rooney into the ratings battle against the top-rated "The Dick Van Dyke Show."

Rooney, the pint-sized David in the fight, appears unconcerned about what could be an eight-ball position. His "Mickey" series centers about a family, the usual husband, wife and two children, who inherit a resort hotel.

A Hollywood film studio is a place where the real blends with the unreal and imagination merges with practicality so often and so well that it is hard to tell where one leaves off and the other begins.

At 20th Century-Fox, for instance, they have constructed permanent outdoor sets for ABC's ne "Peyton Place," in an area containing the studio's commissary, fire department and other work-a-day buildings.

The commissary has been dressed up with a sign and will be used as the Peyton Place Hotel. The fire department building has been transformed into the "Peyton Place Fire Department."

NOT SO BAD

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — Butcher Stanley Slawinski received a telephone call recently from a woman customer who complained that a ham wasn't good. "We told her to bring it in," Slawinski related. "She came in with a bone. When I asked her what happened to the meat, she said, 'We had unexpected company.'"

Kiwanis Hears C-C Objective

Better representation for the people of the Upper Peninsula, continued improvement in Michigan's business climate, and other objectives of the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce were described to the Kiwanis Club at its meeting at Marco's Monday noon.

The speaker was Ernest R. Teachout, Lansing, whose appearance in Escanaba was arranged by Walter Lewke, manager of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce. Dr. William Hemes, president of the Kiwanis Club, introduced Teachout.

The Michigan Chamber of Commerce and Gov. Romney were credited by Teachout with the adoption by the state of the so-called Massachusetts ballot, praised for its advantage in gaining a more responsible approach to state government by the voters.

Teachout said the Chamber is working toward solution of apportionment problems in the state and for better legislative representation for the people of the Upper Peninsula.

The Kiwanians recently participated in a golf outing at the Little River Country Club at Marinette with Kiwanians from clubs of Marinette, Iron Mountain, Shawano, Oconto Falls, Antigo and Oconto.

Luther M. Barrett, superintendent of the Escanaba Area Public Schools, was a guest at the Kiwanis meeting Monday.

The Airport's Future

Bay de Noc Community College invited engineers of the State Aeronautics Department to address a fall session it is planning and was informed they would be glad to do it. They would be specially glad to come to Escanaba, they said, because of their concern over the city's airport, whose usefulness, they said, is being eroded away by encroachments into air pattern approach zones.

This comes with some surprise to the community, we judge, as the port was created with the guidance of the Aeronautics Department, and it has approved the building activities in the area about the port as not conflicting with safety standards for aviation.

Years ago the desirability of the city acquiring the approach area on the east end of the east-west landing strip was suggested, but the city reported that acquisition was beyond its means and also that the state did not require such acquisition as an airport need. There has been considerable building on the edges of this strip since then.

The new Escanaba Area High School was constructed on a large campus at the north end of the north-south landing strip, contributing to the obsolescence of the airport. The use of the school site was OK'd by the State Aeronautics Dept.

The desirability of the airport for expansion of the city's residential area is obvious and if this is to be the eventuality, so be it, but it should be the result of orderly planning and not of crisis, otherwise the city will be put to a huge, needless expense.

Federal aviation authorities have warned that the federal aid which composed such a big part of the financing of development of Escanaba airport will not be available for a second one. This is a consideration of large size for the city. If it wishes to shift its airport, then, it should manage to dispose of the old one to substantially cover the cost of developing a new one if possible.

The factor looming increasingly large in airport planning is jet aviation. It is regarded as inevitable and it will require longer runways than those now in use unless there's some unforeseen change in aerodynamics.

If the present Escanaba airport isn't to serve the jet age, which may be less than 10 years away for the city, there should be study of a substitute facility. Airports are needs of modern cities and they're very expensive.

If Escanaba is to keep its airport it should protect its usefulness. If eventually it is going to move to another airport there should be early plans for acquisition and development. If it is to merge its aviation interests with those of Iron Mountain and Menominee in a central three-city airport, that should be the subject of advance planning too.

Thought Process

There was this fellow who flipped over what he violently regarded as the wanton thoughtlessness of some individuals toward others.

Brother, was he upset!

Special targets of his wrath were:

- Cigar smokers who puff placidly in crowded elevators whilst gazing nonchalantly at a sign proclaiming smoking in elevators is illegal.
- Drivers who casually straddle the lines between parking spaces, thereby taking up two spaces.
- Characters who talk out loud at movies.
- Gals who blow cigarette smoke in your face at lunch counters and in check lines at supermarkets.
- Kooks who play transistor radios full blast on buses and at ball games.
- Eager beavers who honk their horns at drivers in front of them the split second the traffic light starts turning green.

Actually, of course, this guy couldn't do much about all this except to come to a fast burn every time he saw it happen. To do more might have gotten him a punch in the nose.

So nothing happened, except to his nerves and disposition.

And to his wife's nerves and disposition. He finally got the message that she thought he was getting to be a miserable old crab.

So he said to heck with the whole thing and decided to let these thoughtless schnooks go on behaving like schnooks.

Which was thoughtful of him—and practical, too.

The Doctor Says:

Answers On Measles

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt.

Q—About a month ago my 11-month-old daughter caught German measles from her older sister. The doctor says you can only get the disease once, but the baby has just developed the same rash and symptoms all over again. Is it possible to get this disease more than once?

A—One attack of German measles usually confers lasting immunity. When a second attack does occur, it is usually several years later. In the case of your 11-month-old daughter, I would strongly suspect that one of her attacks was some other disease associated with a rash and fever, such as measles, scarlet fever or pink disease.

Q—My husband developed pains in his joints following a recent attack of German measles. Our doctor told him he had rheumatoid arthritis. Is this an aftermath of German measles?

A—Although this is not a common complication, joint pains may persist for several weeks after an attack of German measles. Let's hope this is the cause of your husband's pains, since this type of arthritis usually subsides spontaneously.

Q—My son has just recovered from German measles. I told our pediatrician that I might be pregnant but he said that, as long as I had had German measles as a child, I had nothing to fear. What do you think?

A—Although it is unlikely that you will contract German measles a second time, any contact with the causative virus during the first three months of pregnancy may endanger the baby. When such a contact cannot be avoided, as in your case, an injection of gamma globulin should be given.

Q—Can dogs carry the ticks that cause paralysis? Are these ticks found near lakes?

A—The dog tick and the wood tick have been known to cause a temporary paralysis in human beings, especially in girls, because the tick may fasten itself to the skin of the scalp where it is not readily found and removed. The paralysis develops as a result of a nerve poison that the tick injects into the skin. This occurs only after the tick has been attached for several days. The best prevention, therefore, is to find and remove the ticks. This disease may be found in the vicinity of woodland lakes and is most prevalent in Canada and northern United States.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Washington Comment

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Federal Bureau of Investigation studies of 556,126 offenders already have produced figures which lead some government crime specialists to privately question the effectiveness of our present methods of probation, parole, conditional release and suspended sentences.

These preliminary studies were on offenders "actively handled in 1963" whose records were available to the FBI. A fourth of this total had only one arrest on their records. But 75 per cent had been arrested an average of 4 1/2 times each.

According to their criminal histories, 52 per cent of these repeaters had received "leniency" (the term used in the study) in the form of probation, suspended sentence, parole or conditional release. Of these, 68 per cent received "leniency" once, 20 per cent twice and 12 per cent three times or more.

Two-thirds of those arrested for robbery, burglary, auto theft, bogus check passing and sex offenses previously had been granted "leniency" for one crime or another. The average man or woman arrested for robbery had an average criminal career of 13 years, with nine arrests. The two-thirds who previously had been granted "leniency" had an average of six arrests after the first "leniency."

These preliminary analyses show one other thing—the youthful age at which most repeater criminals first violate the law.

Of the 56,126 cases studied, 66 per cent had been 24 or under at the time of their first arrest. Forty per cent or more were teen-agers when first arrested. Most had crime records which spread out more than a decade.

The crime specialists don't have solutions. But FBI speakers regularly quote Judge Sam Tatum of Tennessee, who said: "I became judge of the Juvenile and Domestic Relations Court on June 1, 1939. Since that time I have tried approximately 8,000 boys and girls under 17 years of age for violating the law.

"Of that number only 42 were regular in attendance in Sunday School or church."

Conscientious objectors assigned to a concentration camp near Germfask are giving officials in charge plenty of trouble by their refusal to abide by regulations.

George E. Johnson, in charge of the J. C. Penney Co. store at Gladstone for the past 21 years, announces his resignation.

The Knights of Columbus council at Manistique is planning the silver jubilee of that order in Manistique.

Formal opening of the 8-mile ribbon of highway on US-2 between Rapid River and Gladstone yesterday was made a gala occasion attended by people from all parts of the area.

Notice of suit has been given the City of Escanaba by the Activated Sludge Co., Inc., charging that the process of handling sewage at the local sewage plant is an infringement on a patent owned by them.

Pay Raise Bill In The Making

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill which would speed pay raises to every member of the armed services except draftees and lowest-ranking enlisted men is expected to win final congressional approval today.

Little debate is expected as the House takes up the bill. House passage would complete congressional action on the measure and whisk it to the Capitol. Johnson is prepared to sign it quickly so the $207-million pay raise can begin Sept. 1.

For most servicemen and servicewomen, the pay raise would be the second in a year. Congress enacted a $1.2-billion raise last year, putting it into effect Oct. 1.

Miss Michigan Has Tense Job

LANSING (AP) — If the life of a beauty queen is strewn with roses and congratulatory telegrams, it is also sprinkled with tensions.

That has been the experience of Michigan's queen — Sally Jane Noble — now in the fifth day of her reign as Miss Michigan, 1964.

The tall, blue-eyed blonde queen held a news conference at the Lansing Press Club Monday, where she presided with poise and dignity — and a hint of shyness.

She was flooded with flowers and telegrams during the Miss Michigan contest — while tensions continued to mount.

"Although we had time for it, relaxing was something we had to concentrate on," she said.

It may be a while before she has a great deal of time to herself. She will compete in the Miss America Pageant in Atlantic City next month and even if she loses there, is committed to many personal appearances in the next year as Miss Michigan.

Beyond that she hopes to study at Michigan State University and compete on the 1968 U.S. Olympic gymnastics team.

Coin Production To Be Expanded

The U. S. Treasury today announced an intensifier program to double the nation's rate of coin production within a year and raise it by 75 per cent in six months.

By next June, the program will boost coin production to an annual rate of over 9 billion new coins — more than double the 4.3 billion level for fiscal 1964. For the last six months of this year — normally, a time of peak demand for coins — the program will mean a 75 per cent increase in coin production over the same period last year, a rise to 3.5 billion new coins.

This increased production will be distributed among the present 5 denominations of coins in about two-thirds pennies, one-fourth nickels and dimes, and the rest quarters and half dollars.

'I Won't Move' Says Councilman, Gets Free Ride

DOWAGIAC (AP) — Calvin R. (Pop) Davis clung on to rightfully what he says is his Dowagiac City Council seat Monday night. But it didn't do him any good.

On city council orders, both Davis and his seat were removed from its meeting.

Two policemen wheeled Davis outside in the swivel armchair in which he was sitting.

Dissension has racked the Dowagiac City Council for months.

Davis resigned his council seat July 10, then retracted the resignation next day. But the city's other councilmen, rejecting the retraction, voted to accept the resignation.

Davis claims the acceptance is meaningless in view of his retraction. So he showed up Monday night and plopped down in a seat, announcing "I will not be removed."

On the chief's orders, two policemen gave Davis a free-wheeling ride out the door.

Barbecue Isn't Cancer Hazard, Specialist Says

CHICAGO — No ill effects resulting from charcoal-broiled food have been reported in man, according to Dr. Philip L. White, secretary of the American Medical Association Council on Foods and Nutrition.

The smoke which arises when drippings hit live charcoal used in outdoor grills is primarily from incompletely combusted fat, Dr. White explained.

"It has been shown that fat, which is partially decomposed by heat, produces substances suspected of being hazardous. However, no incidences of harm traceable to food have been reported in man. For that matter, research with animals likewise has failed to demonstrate any hazard."

To assure a more pleasant atmosphere when barbecuing, Dr. White said it is well to avoid the possibility of fat combustion as much as possible.

Camp Girl Hit By Lightning

ADRIAN (AP) — Lightning struck 18-year-old camp counselor Jean Jackson of Columbus, Ohio, today in a storm at a children's summer camp on Sand Lake, Lenawee County. She was treated at Bixby Hospital in Adrian and released.

Ann Landers

Girl Free But Who Knows It?

Dear Ann Landers: I went steady with a handsome, irresponsible lush for three years. We became engaged on my 19th birthday and for two lousy years I've listened to his lies and nursed him through hangovers.

Last week when he forgot where he had parked his car (for the 15th time) and came for me in a taxi, I decided I had had it. I returned his ring and told him never to call me again.

What I want to know is this: Everyone thinks of me as Lou's girl. Somehow I must get the word around that I am no longer engaged. How would it be if I ran a small ad in the paper — something cute like, "I'm available again. It's all over between Lou and me," and accompanied the ad with a small picture?

All I want from you is a yes or no. No corny comment or sermonizing is necessary. MISS DISENGAGED

Dear Miss: No.

Dear Ann Landers: Five years ago my husband and I moved to Denver. We have a roomy home, a beautiful back yard and the air is fresh and invigorating.

My parents who live in a small city apartment come to spend a week with us every August. Before they pull up to our home it is their habit to stop at a market and buy three armloads of groceries. They also insist on taking us out on the town two nights during their visit, so they could hardly be called free-loaders.

My husband starts to complain the minute he hears they are on the way. After they leave I hear nothing but insulting remarks for days.

His folks are cold as ice. At our wedding his mother gave me a handshake. She has never kissed me in all the years I've known her. His father is a sour apple — too cheap to spend the money to come to see us although I've invited them a dozen times.

My husband is beginning to chew at me about my folks again. What shall I say to him? —DENVER DONNA

Dear Donna: Nothing you can say will make any difference, so save your lungs and enjoy that glorious Denver air.

The poor stiff you are married to was born in a deep freeze and has never had a decent relationship with his family. He resents the affection

Cancer Crusade Faces Big Need

The Delta County Unit, American Cancer Society has just closed its annual Crusade for funds because money is needed immediately to carry on its work here, but contributions will be welcomed.

George Ryan of Gladstone, health chairman of the unit, said that the Crusade brought in more money than had ever

Motel Thief Gets $530

Guests at two motels in the Escanaba area were robbed of a total of $530 early today by a tall slim man, who was seen by one of the victims as he left a motel room.

State Police recovered some of the purses from which the money had been removed. They were found discarded on the shore side of the highway between Escanaba and Gladstone.

At the Terrace Motel at 4 a. m. Mrs. Harold Hyde of Mergo, Ill., awakened in time to see a tall slim man go out of the door. She called to her husband and they turned on the lights to discover they had been robbed of $420.

Mr. Hyde's trousers and a billfold containing $240, and Mrs. Hyde's tote bag containing a purse with $30 and a billfold with $150 were missing.

At the Sunset Motel sometime before 5 a. m. Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Wakeman of Milwaukee were robbed of about $110. Her purse with $35 to $40 and his billfold with about $70 were taken. The empty billfolds were found on the beach between Escanaba and Gladstone.

State Police said that because of the warm night the robbery victims had left the inside door of the motel open and had not latched the screen.

been raised here to fight cancer, but that the collection to date still is short of the goal of $7,203 by $483. The collection has brought in $6,720 to date, the meeting Monday night in the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce building was told.

The American Cancer Society will return $3,360 of the collection to the Delta Unit for service to local patients. Mrs. Clinton Dunathan, Delta treasurer, reported that $400 was spent for patient services in the past month and that the unit's treasury was depleted and to meet commitments to patients the 1965 funds are needed.

Mrs. Robert Storbeck, service chairman, reported that 7 patients are currently being served with dressings and sick room aids, and Mrs. Dunathan, reports that 6 patients are getting diagnostic and medical aid, for a total of 13 patients.

Because of the increased need for funds, said Ryan, more fund raising efforts are planned in the year and contributions will be welcomed. They can be addressed to Mrs. Clinton Dunathan, 2009 S. 12th St., Escanaba.

Last year the Delta Unit raised $5,100 and sent half to the Division for allocation between state and national organizations.

Explosion Victim Dies From Burns

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Charles Souder, 42, of Flat Rock, one of three men burned critically in an explosion at McLouth Steel Corp. in Trenton last week, died Monday at the University Medical Center.

Spokesmen said the other two, William Maciag, 43, of Rockwood, and Richard Katz, 33, of Southgate, were listed in critical condition because they face skin graft operations.

Souder suffered burns over 75 per cent of his body in the blast

Clevenger Cites Needs Of U.P.

Ray Clevenger, Democratic candidate for Congress and former head of the Michigan Corporation and Securities Commission, spoke at a dinner sponsored by the Delta County Clevenger for Congress Committee.

The dinner was at Terrace Gardens Monday evening. Clevenger told those attending that Upper Michigan has been shortchanged by its Congressmen.

"They've taken the office but not the responsibility. Every congressman has the responsibility to help get action to solve the problems of the district. But our representatives have evaded their responsibilities by calling for studies and studies of studies," he said.

"What we need is action on those studies we already have," Clevenger said.

"We need action for three things: Natural gas, roads, and jobs."

"Everyone knows Upper Michigan must have natural gas. Yet for the last 10 years we've had nothing but fighting between two giant utilities without regard for the public interest. If I'm elected, I pledge a strong fight for the public interest. And this means getting natural gas into the district—all the district.

"Roads are needed to open up the north country to industry and tourists. We need a new Chicago-Menominee-Ironwood expressway to connect with one from the Sault to Duluth. And we need a shoreline scenic highway from Menominee to Escanaba to the Sault to Munising to Ironwood around the Keweenaw Peninsula.

"But most important, we've got to get our people to work. Our unemployment rate is two and three times higher than the state and national average. We have got to get our economy moving so we can share in the nation's prosperity."

"The purpose of having a congressman is to have a representative in Washington who can help get action to solve the problems of the district."

Clevenger has been campaigning hard for the Democratic nomination. With still four weeks to the Sept. 1 primary election date, he has already covered over 20,000 miles in traveling through the 22 counties of the new 11th district.

Cyclist, 80, Crosses USA In 86 Days

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — It took Lyman Frain Sr. 86 days to pedal his bicycle from New York's Times Square to San Francisco's Golden Gate Bridge, and he was a little off schedule.

"I figured to make it a little faster," said the 80-year-old Philadelphian, "but I was bucking those west winds all the way."

The aging but hearty cyclist finished his trip Monday. He said he pedaled 3,244 miles on his 12-speed French bicycle, equipped with an extra-low gear for mountains.

"I feel pretty proud of what I've just done," he said. "I'm the first man my age to ever ride a bike from ocean to ocean. I just wanted to prove an old guy still had something left."

Frain was met at the bridge—which he wasn't allowed to cross on the bicycle—by bridge officials and his son, Donald, 35, an electronics designer of San Jose.

He said he made the trip on a diet of orange juice and steaks, because cycling was good for his health.

"Most men of 60 sit down in the old rocking chair and rock themselves into the grave," he said. "But they'd live 10 or 20 years longer if they'd take up bicycling. If it wasn't for this bicycle, I wouldn't be alive today."

Frain said he averaged 40 miles a day but clocked 100 miles one day down the western slope of the Continental Divide toward Salt Lake City.

BEE LIFE

Male bees are short-lived, never collect pollen and do not have any family responsibilities in connection with providing for their young, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

School Needs Will Be Told

The necessity to fully and frankly inform the people of the Escanaba Area Public Schools district of the needs of the schools was discussed at the meeting of the Active Citizens for Education at the Junior High School last night, with reports being heard from several committee chairmen.

Financing this program of public information about school needs was one of the topics of discussion, and plans were made for fund-raising which the group hopes will bring a generous response from those interested in ACE's effort for the schools.

The need for urging voters who will be away on Sept. 1 to apply for and to vote absent voter ballots was cited by Clarence Moore; and he also reported to the citizen group on the Intermediate School Board and in particular concerning handicapped children.

Dr. Edward Kuivinen presented to the group Luther M. Barrett, the new superintendent of the Escanaba Area Public Schools.

Next meeting of the Active Citizens for Education will be held at the Cornell School on Monday, Aug. 10 at 8 p.m. All interested persons are invited to attend.

Detroit Trims Grid Roster

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Lions trimmed the team's roster to 48 players Monday by placing flanker Doug Bickle of Traverse City and two other players on waivers.

Bickle, who played for Hillsdale College, was released with tackle Ron Frank of VPI and guard Currie Ball of Hampton Institute.

New Building Shows Decline

The value of new construction in Escanaba so far this year is approximately one-half of that for the same period in 1963, a drop that in part is caused by the lack of large building projects, said Charles Schmidt, city assessor.

To this date a year ago in Escanaba the value of new building was $769,400; this year for the same period the total is $439,750.

There are not only fewer large construction projects in Escanaba this year but the home building volume is down compared to last year, the city assessor noted. Among the projects whose construction helped swell last year's total was the new Immanuel Lutheran Church and two new bowling alleys.

July permits for construction approved by the city were more in number and value than for June, but the volume was still trailing behind last year's total.

The totals for July include three new homes valued at $48,000; nine garages and commercial projects valued at $93,750; plus building additions valued at $2,700. The July total of $144,450 was about $100,000 ahead of June.

The new building in July included one car wash, one gas station, and the St. Joseph's boiler room and heating plant.

Not all of the new construction in the city is reflected in increases in Escanaba's assessed valuation. For example, acquisition of some properties by churches and certain charitable non-profit organizations removes from the assessment roll certain private properties previously taxed.

Severinsen is a 1963 graduate of Holy Name High School and is a freshman majoring in English at St. Thomas, a Catholic liberal-arts college for men operated by the Archdiocese of St. Paul.

ANRMAN Paul A. Fluette, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Fluette Sr. of Rt. 1, Ensign, has completed the first phase of his Air Force basic military training at Lackland AFB, San Antonio, Texas. ## Poverty Item Big Challenge Says Humphrey WASHINGTON (AP) — In a book published today with President Johnson's endorsement, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, writes that America faces one of its greatest challenges in lifting 35 million citizens out of poverty.

The book, "War on Poverty," is the first written by the Minnesota senator, considered a leading possibility for the Democratic vice presidential nomination.

Among other proposals Humphrey suggests a domestic investment bank to make the kind of massive investment needed to rehabilitate the nation's depressed communities.

Safety in Speed

THE ANTELOPE races over the flat African veldt at speeds up to sixty miles an hour. He is in constant peril. His horns are highly prized by hunters; his flesh is the favorite food of nearly every beast of prey. Fortunately his sharp senses of sight, smell and hearing usually warn him of danger in time to run, and his great speed keeps him out of trouble most of the time.

Men and women lack the sharp senses of the antelope and must rely on their common sense to protect themselves. For their financial protection, millions of people have turned to Sun Life insurance—common sense protection against many of the uncertainties of life. You, too, can have this financial protection.

After the services, a group of 90 ladies gathered in the Parish Hall and were served breakfast by a group of Holy Name men. The tables were cleverly adorned with floating rosebuds and sweetpeas, and other summer flowers decorated the hall. After the breakfast, Fr. Strelch addressed the gathering briefly and read the prayer of consecration for all members present.

A get-well card was signed by all present to be sent to the pastor, Rev. Patrick Frankard, who is confined to St. Joseph's Hospital, Hancock, with injuries sustained in a recent automobile accident.

Mrs. Edward LaMaide, president of the Society, was in charge of preparations for the special activities on the feast of St. Anne. Arrangements also were made to set up a table of religious articles for sale. ## Mid-Calf Length Dinner Wear Latest Fashion

PARIS (AP)—Midcalf-length dresses for dinner wear were the biggest fashion news from Yves Saint-Laurent's fall and winter collection today.

Saint-Laurent's presentation matched midcalf theater coats shown earlier by Pierre Cardin. Viewers also were startled to see a similarity to fashions shown by Chanel without the pants. Both featured simple suits with a "sweatery" look and tiered skirts with wraps and panels.

Saint-Laurent even put a flower in the hair, as Chanel did. Except for the midcalf dinner dresses, Saint-Laurent had absolutely no surprises. Evening gowns were standard shifts in jeweled satin or lame.

Suit jackets had soft natural shoulders, with set-in sleeves. Sleeves were slashed and buttoned at the wrist.

The jackets were soft and supple like a cardigan sweater and fit in much the same way — rather straight, but flowing along the body in front. They were hip-length. Sweater-like, the bottom button was often left undone.

Dark print silk scarves often filled in the fairly buttoned-up necklines. There were lots of close-spaced, double-breasted buttonings.

Slim suit skirts were most often double-tiered, with the top tier also wrapped or paneled.

Saint-Laurent used many smoky colors and dark bias plaids. Soft wool bouclés were featured.

Coats were slim, buttoned-up and had thin leather ribbon belts.

Dresses under coats, and where Saint-Laurent did not look like Chanel, had round necks, short sleeves, and wide crushed belts. Often they were tunic-like.

Saint-Laurent showed fur hems, borders, cuffs and collars just like everyone else in Paris these days, but with more control.

Paris Designer Stresses Pants In Fall Showing

By LOUISE HICKMAN

PARIS (AP) — The monokini made the big time in fashions today as Courreges showed topless long pants — but with a long open coat that was bow-caught over the bosom.

Courreges showed lots of other, soberer pants, but not an all-pants collection as it had been rumored he might.

In concept, his new fall and winter collection was much like the one for summer he showed in January, offering a choice between strict long pants or spare, short — very short — coats, suits, and dresses.

Now, and then, dress hems new fashion and they are everywhere well above the knees. where in Paris, but only Cour-Now, as then, he used lots of reges and Heim endorse them white and white with camel. for anything but sport or at Courreges expects women to home wear.

wear pants-suits around town, and above-knee shifts to dance in — with boots, of course. He is obviously quite serious about his fashion philosophy, which might be defined as "chic existentialist."

He showed very nude-looking pants and tops — in wool embroidered tulle over suntan crepe — and low-slung "monokini" trousers under a long, open peignoir coat which was held together with a bow at bosom level. The pants were solid, shiny silver sequins.

Courreges used lots of smooth, almost satiny, wool gabardines, and glassy-smooth cire.

Most of the evening pants or short coats and dresses came in bluish pink or black and white combinations.

Pants promise to be the big new fashion and they are everywhere well above the knees. where in Paris, but only Cour-Now, as then, he used lots of reges and Heim endorse them white and white with camel. for anything but sport or at Courreges expects women to home wear.

Queen Gerri Returns Home

Miss Gerri LaFleur, Miss Delta County, returned home from her exciting week of competition in the Miss Michigan Contest in Muskegon where she saw 18-year-old Sally Jean Nobel, of Lansing win the title.

Miss LaFleur describes her experiences by saying, "It was wonderful and exciting, no one who entered could consider themselves a loser. The thrill of meeting and competing with such a variety of talented and beautiful girls is an experience I shall never forget."

Queen Gerri shared her dressing room with the new Miss Michigan and came to know her as a friend as well as a fellow contestant. Gerri found the new queen to be "a very wonderful and sweet girl." "Sally has an outstanding personality and terrific talent, as well as being a beautiful girl. She is sure to go far in the Miss America contest," she added.

While at the contest in Muskegon Queen Gerri noted that all of the queen contestants were treated royally. In the parade she and most of the girls assumed that the spectators would be favoring their own Miss Muskegon. "It wasn't that way at all, she said, everyone made us feel very welcome and at home and each of us felt as though we were very special."

As part of the Miss Michigan Pageant Miss LaFleur had an opportunity to meet and talk with Donna Axum, present Miss America and Nancy Fleming, Miss America 1961. Outgoing Miss Michigan, Kathleen McLaughlin was also on hand to give encouragement.

For the evening gown competition Miss Delta County wore a lovely white satin, floor length, sleeveless gown. It was designed with a rounded neckline that dipped lower in the back, and the top of the bodice was encrusted with crystal beads. The waist was highlighted with a big bow at the back and the controlled skirt was made up of large pleats.

The new Miss Michigan was the favorite of all the contestants according to Gerri, everyone shed tears of happiness when she won. Her talent was exceptional as she did an interpretive acrobatic ballet dance. She has 10 years of training and is hoping for a berth in the 1968 Olympics.

U.S. Government Asked To Curtail Car Parts Import

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government was urged by Rep. Henry C. Schadeberg, R-Wis., today to impose countervailing duties on Canadian motor-vehicle parts imported into the U.S. under subsidy from the Canadian government.

Schadeberg said in a prepared House speech that three of the plants of Modine Manufacturing Co., Racine, Wis., may close "if this Canadian scheme is not halted" and more than 1,000 of Modine's workers stand to lose their jobs.

The Canadian government's giving of a "bounty or grant" to Canadian manufacturers, Schadeberg said, enables them to compete illegally and unfairly with U.S. makers.

Hearings Held

Schweigert Sees U.P. Industries Outlook Better

Senator Tom Schweigert and his wife, Peggy, are making their first swing through the new 37th Senatorial District in the primary campaign.

They've spent a week in the eastern Upper Peninsula and were in Delta County on Monday.

"The new 37th is the largest in Michigan geographically — 14 counties," said Senator Schweigert. "Population-wise we're all the same now, with minor exceptions."

Schweigert, a professional forester and land surveyor, is familiar in the Upper Peninsula. His professional work as a forester has brought him to the Upper Peninsula often and he served in the Civilian Conservation Corps as a junior forester. He was stationed at Camp Paradise, Whitefish Point, Camp Cusino near Munising and Camp Mackinac at Rexton.

"I met Charles Burton, the Gladstone Realtor, in the CCC program," said Schweigert. "He was assistant state director of the program. It is a pleasure to see him again in this campaign, and also Jim Knox, chairman of the Alger County Board of Supervisors. He was camp superintendent at Cusino, and my direct boss."

Good Men Needed
"One of our great problems in campaigning in the Upper Peninsula is geography," said Schweigert. "Our representation has been cut exactly in half. Where we had two congressmen we have one, where we had four state senators we have two, and where we had 11 to 12 legislators we now we'll have only 5 or 6."

"In my judgment we're going to have to think in terms of getting the strongest possible persons to represent us. Otherwise the southeastern part of the state won't even know we are alive."

"In the Upper Peninsula there seems to be a tremendous interest in increasing the tourist business. I think that people are beginning to recognize that it is vital to their economic future."

"I also think that there is an excellent prospect in the near future of securing a large pulpwood consuming plant in the eastern part of the Upper Peninsula, based on the wood resources, which are now growing faster than we are using them."

"Such a plant would manufacture a product needed by the furniture industry (a flakeboard) and of course we're in the center of a great Midwestern market for such a product."

Research Fund
"During the last session the Legislature provided a grant of $20,000 to Michigan Tech for the purpose of determining just how large a plant could be supported by the available wood supply and I understand that this project is just now getting underway."

"Ultimately it could result in the development of a major wood-using plant, comparable to the one being built at Gaylord by U.S. Plywood Corp."

"The flakeboard process can use aspens, pines and some low grade hardwoods. The wood is chipped and subjected to heat and pressure along with phenolic resin glue to create a board type product that is used as the base material in furniture. The veneers are applied on this.

Senator Thomas Schweigert

"Where we used to saw large logs into boards we now chip smaller ones and form the chips into boards so that the results are the same."

"I've also encountered substantial support for the Pictured Rocks National Lakeshore, mostly on the basis of its potential in attracting visitors to the U.P. I hope compromises can be made so that logging and lumbering in the area won't be curtailed as result of the creation of the park."

Romney Popular
"I have also encountered an enthusiastic support for Governor Romney and his interest in the Upper Peninsula. I don't know what has brought this about except his interest in many business ventures in the U.P. and his second inaugural in Escanaba, but I find him very popular wherever I go."

Schweigert is serving his second two-year term as senator of the 29th Senatorial District. His home is in Petoskey. He is chairman of the State Affairs Committee, one of the top three committees of the Senate. He has worked on the general government reorganization of the state and the resulting bill merging 147 separate state agencies into 17 major departments passed the Senate 27 to 5. Schweigert is confident that the next session will bring a House bill in substantial agreement with the Senate bill and that a merger of many departments will result with a saving of millions of dollars yearly to taxpayers.

The Schweigerts have three sons: Frank T., 19, a student at Ferris State College; Ralph, 18, a student at the University of Michigan; and Bud, 17, a senior at Petoskey High School who is in Wolfenbittel, Germany on a student exchange program sponsored by the Michigan Council of Churches.

The other candidates for the Republican nomination for 37th District senator are State Senator Kent T. Lundgren, (R-Menominee) and Harold Vanlerberghe, Escanaba city councilman and former mayor.

Briefly Told

The volume of passenger traffic at the Escanaba airport for July totaled 934. It is reported by Jon Thorin, airport manager, to City Manager George Harvey. Transient flights totaled 155.

US Keeps Watch For Indication In N. Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the wake of President Johnson's order beefing up U.S. naval forces off Communist North Viet Nam, the giant U.S. aircraft carrier Constellation and three other American warships set sail from Hong Kong today.

A U.S. spokesman in Hong Kong said the four ships left according to schedule. He declined to give their destination or to say if the move was connected with Johnson's announcement that followed Sunday's attack on the U.S. destroyer Maddox by three North Vietnamese torpedo boats.

In advance of the departure of the four vessels, shore leave was canceled for officers and crew, and the ships apparently were placed on alert.

Besides the Constellation, they included the guided missile frigate Gridley, and the destroyers Preston and Fechteler.

Meanwhile, U.S. officials here were watching to see if the Sunday attack was an isolated incident or part of a hazardous new Communist strategy.

They said it was difficult to determine whether the sudden attack Sunday, which left one of the three Red boats burning, was an accident, a misjudgment or a deliberate provocation.

If similar Red assaults are launched, bolstered American naval units in the Gulf of Tonkin were prepared to carry out President Johnson's orders to destroy any attacking force.

The President announced to newsmen Monday his shoot-to-kill orders to the Navy. Previously orders had been for the naval units to defend themselves but not necessarily to destroy the attacker.

In Sunday's clash, the Navy disclosed Monday, the destroyer Maddox scored a direct hit on one of the PT boats with a five-inch gun. The Communist craft later was strafed by aircraft from the carrier U.S.S. Ticonderoga and left burning in the water. The Maddox was not damaged and no American sailors were hurt.

U.S. Defense and State Department officials believe the PT boat sank. A reconnaissance flight over the area, in international waters 30 miles off North Viet Nam, found no trace of the craft.

Adm. U.S. Grant Sharp, top U.S. military commander in the Pacific, said today, "The last time we saw it, it was in flames. I don't know if it sank but the chances are pretty good it did." He said there were no North Vietnamese casualties "that we know of, but there is no way of telling."

The State Department described the engagement as an "unprovoked attack" and said it was sending a protest to the Communist North Vietnamese government.

Department spokesmen rejected North Vietnamese charges that American planes and ships had attacked its territory in recent days.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara traveled to Capitol Hill to bring senate leaders up to date on the developments.

After the closed meeting Rusk was asked by newsmen if he still thought the attack was an isolated incident. He replied:

"That remains to be seen. But we are all deadly serious about this."

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, told newsmen both Rusk and McNamara seemed to think the clash was an isolated incident.

South Viet Nam's premier, Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, declared in Saigon the United States should follow up the PT boat attack with firm steps against North Viet Nam.

The Navy said the Maddox opened fire on the patrol boats only after the Reds ignored three warning shots and continued sweeping in on their torpedo runs.

The PT boats launched three torpedoes and several 37-millimeter cannon shells at the Maddox but missed.

"The other side got a sting out of this," Rusk said. "If they do it again they'll get another sting."

Children Die In Refrigerator

NORWALK, Calif. (AP) — Three young children are dead after being found in an unused refrigerator in the garage of a Norwalk home.

Mrs. Carole Caine, mother of two of the youngsters, discovered the tragedy Monday.

Her son, Steven, 5, and daughter, Denise, 3, died minutes after being admitted to Studebaker Hospital. A playmate Roger D. Foltz, 5, was pronounced dead on arrival.

Investigators said Mrs. Caine had opened the sliding doors of the refrigerator in order to air it out, then closed the garage door. She later noticed the garage door had been opened, and found the children.

State Highway Policy On Signs Criticized

By ROSE LACHAPPELLE

MANISTIQUE—Charging it's "like getting 50 operators when you pick up the telephone but never get your number," a group of 60 Upper Peninsula residents assembled here Monday for a day-long hearing by the Michigan Senate Committee on Highway Signs. Twenty told their stories to Senators Kent Lundgren, Menominee Republican and Charles McManiman, Houghton Democrat.

Coming from across the Peninsula and representing Chambers of Commerce from Escanaba, Iron River, Munising, Manistique and other areas, they stated the Highway Department's sign policy was injurious to their businesses, that it lacked uniformity due to varying widths of right-of-way, and that the right-of-way had been given in good faith by the people with the thought there was mutual use of it.

"I thought I was giving the Highway Department permission to lay a road across, like you would a power or telephone company to put poles for lines on your property. I think I still own that land," Ernest King of Naubinway stated.

Bureau of Roads Duck?

The expressions by the 20 in favor of a program which would permit directional highway business signs carried, but the theme was the same: It will hurt business and the Highway Department has right-of-way varying from 66 to 300 feet. Trees within right-of-way often prevent signs from early sight by 65 mph traffic. Often signs are back of buildings or in the woods if policy is followed.

Excessive right-of-way buying, beyond what benefits the road traveler was charged by Senators McManiman and also by Kenneth Dorman, secretary-manager of the Upper Michigan Tourist Assn. Since 1962, a meeting with a representative of the Federal Bureau of Roads has been sought, but without avail, Dorman said.

Lundgren said this same person, though he couldn't attend a meeting in the same building in Lansing on Michigan sign problems was able to attend a Blaney convention of roadmen this summer.

Both of them and others charged a "go-round by officials in approach to the problem which vitally affects livelihood of many in the peninsula."

Under present law there is a requirement that businesses must serve all persons, so there is no such thing as private property," said Dorman. "This is of a public nature and the business owner has as much right to have his sign on the roadway as the government does to advertise its state parks and other facilities."

Dorman complimented legislators for their interest and assistance with the problem Senator Lundgren, during the hearing discussed a bill which Senator McManiman had introduced, and which passed the Senate but didn't get by the Ways and Means Committee for the House vote. It would have provided for uniform distances for sign purposes.

Titles Study

"We were open to suggestions from you (the Highway Department) until you flew members of that committee to Washington and had them brainwashed," Lundgren told Ward Mannerling, administrative assistant for maintenance in the Highway Department. He and Joseph Wilbur of the engineering staff represented Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie at the hearing.

Wilbur read a statement of Mackie stating a study would be made of titles and right-of-way in both the U.P. and the Lower Peninsula. He said this would take some time and that policy decision on it would be made by the 4-man commission, to be appointed by the governor sometime after the first of the year Right-of-way is purchased on a 20-year need projection. Of the varying widths, he noted that the national policy of obtaining scenic area along highways was interrupted by World War II and other factors but the varying widths did not represent "whimsical" highway actions.

Law Change
Predicting that the U.P. group won't get very far on changing sign policy, Mannerling drew heated fire from Senator McManiman when Mannerling said the only way for them to change the sign policy "would be to secede."

Senator McManiman said "What do you mean sitting before us two lawmakers and telling those people the only way they can succeed is to secede from the Union? What kind of democracy is this?"

At several points in the hearing Senators Lundgren and McManiman pinned down Highway Department statements and in so doing found that "this policy has changed" or "we're no stricter now than Bureau of Public Roads policy."

Federal Standard
The senators indicated the Federal Bureau of Roads has no standard established on highway right-of-way width.

Dorman stated 80 per cent of the traffic generated is tourist and that tourism is a large factor in the area's economy.

Both Dorman and Rep. Dominic Jacobetti of Marquette spoke strongly against the sign policy of the Highway Department, citing it is better to have a program which enables small business people to earn their living than to have them at welfare offices.

State Position
Mannerling indicated at the meeting that the Highway Department did not deny the prior verbal agreements with property owners on locations of signs. He consistently argued that the department was following Bureau of Public Roads regulations so federal aid would not be lost.

Lundgren told the Highway Department officials his committee was not satisfied and would continue its work until a reasonable solution can be achieved.

"We're beginning to see the results of some of the money we have so glibly been sending to Washington," he observed.

This was the third meeting held on the sign problems.

Cronkite Lauds CBS Coverage Of Convention

NEW YORK (AP) — Walter Cronkite says his contract with the Columbia Broadcasting System has nine years to go and he has no plans to resign.

"CBS is telling me, 'You're still No. 1 around here,'" Cronkite told a news conference Monday.

"I wouldn't expect them to say anything else," he added. Last week, CBS announced it would replace Cronkite as anchor man for its coverage of the Democratic National Convention with a new television team—Robert Trout and Roger Mudd.

At the time, Cronkite said CBS "took a clobbering" in the ratings from the National Broadcasting Co.'s coverage of the Republican National Convention.

Asked Monday why NBC got the higher rating, Cronkite said:

"It is a great credit to the opposition reporters — (Chet) Huntley and (David) Brinkley. Huntley and Brinkley have entertainment value, something that we have not directly eschewed and something that we must be seeking."

Pirate Bonus Baby Pays Big Dividend

By The Associated Press
Bob Bailey, highly touted youngster who dragged through a poor rookie season under the pressure of a whopping bonus, is beginning to pay dividends.

A $150,000 bonus baby who batted a dismal .228 last season, Bailey continued his heavy hitting Monday night by slamming a key triple in the eighth inning and a game-winning single in the ninth that gave the Pittsburgh Pirates a 3-2 victory over the San Francisco Giants.

The race was run from the Menominee Marina breakwater around Green, Horseshoe and Chambers islands. The weather was uncertain with strong, puffy winds and sudden calms.

The two hits lifted Bailey's average to .304 and boosted the Pirates into third place in the tight National League pennant struggle, 4½ games behind the front-running Philadelphia Phillies and 2½ lengths behind the Giants.

A vital offensive weapon in the Pirates' bid to duplicate their 1960 pennant, Bailey has always spoken freely about the pressure applied by the gigantic bonus and his meager accomplishments as a rookie last year when the Pirates nosedived to eighth place.

Bailey's key hits dropped the Giants two games behind the Phillies, who were rained out of a game against the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Only two other games were scheduled, both in the American League. Baltimore rode Milt Pappas' shutout pitching to a 7-0 victory over the Los Angeles Angels and to within one percentage point of the first-place New York Yankees. And Cleveland defeated Washington 4-2.

Jose Pagan was involved in both San Francisco runs as the Giants built a 2-0 lead. He beat out a punt in the fifth inning and eventually scored on Duke Snider's single. In the sixth he drove in Tom Haller, who had doubled, with a sacrifice fly.

Bailey then got the Pirates rolling against Bob Bolin, who had a five-hit shutout through seven innings. After Manny Mota stroked a pinch-hit double with one out in the eighth, Bailey slammed his triple and came home with the tying run on Bill Virdon's single.

A trophy will be presented to the winning team. It was announced by Jim Peterson who is in charge of arrangements.

Dick McAuliffe Gets Better In Hit Department

DETROIT (AP)—A somewhat slight build and an awkward batting stance make Detroit Tigers' shortstop Dick McAuliffe look like anything but a major league baseball player, much less a slugger.

Yet the 24-year-old McAuliffe has already bettered a personal season's high in one hitting category and could well improve on three or four more before the season is over.

Detroit hitting coach Wayne Blackburn had one comment to make when McAuliffe reported to the Tigers camp at Lakeland last spring:

"Dick, you're ready to go right now. That swing of yours is going to get you a lot of hits."

After a somewhat slow start, McAuliffe has vaulted into the team leadership in home runs with 19. He had 13 last year after hitting 12 in 1962, his first full year with the team.

With 47 runs batted in, McAuliffe seems certain to top his previous high of 63 in 1962. He had 61 last year.

He's already tied his previous season's high in triples with six and needs just a few more to top the 20 he hit in 1962.

Though disappointed that he is not hitting closer to the 300 mark, McAuliffe feels that his hitting will continue to improve and that he will eventually make the grade.

"I've been hitting the ball well and staying above my lifetime average (.261)," McAuliffe said. "I've been feeling good all year and took good care of myself in the off season. This, I think, has given me more power."

Despite moments of brilliance, McAuliffe has been criticized for his fielding. Some so-called experts feel that he lacks the range to be a great shortstop, while many point out the fact that he commits a number of errors.

But pitcher Hank Aguirre, speaking for the rest of the staff, defended McAuliffe's fielding.

"Sure he's committed a lot of errors," Aguirre said. "But he also gets more chances than anyone else and it figures he's

Dial Undergoes Operation For Muscle Injury

By The Associated Press

Buddy Dial, a prize addition to the Dallas Cowboys' pass-receiving corps, rested today after a successful operation, but the former Pittsburgh Steelers star will be a big question mark when his new club opens the National Football League season next month.

Dial, acquired from the Steelers last December, underwent surgery in Dallas Monday to correct a tear in the middle muscle of his right thigh. The Rice alumnus was hurt last week during a workout at the Cowboys' training camp in Thousand Oaks, Calif.

"We are very pleased with the results," said General Manager Tex Schramm. But, according to team doctors, Dial won't be able to run at full speed for about six weeks. The Cowboys and St. Louis Cardinals kick off the regular NFL schedule at Dallas Sept. 12.

Another pass-catching standout, Chris Burford of the Kansas City Chiefs, underwent a knee operation today in Dallas. The American Football League star had a similar operation two years ago. He injured the knee two weeks ago and will be sidelined for six more weeks. KC Coach Hank Stram said half-back Abner Haynes will replace Burford at split end in the Chiefs' exhibition opener with the Oakland Raiders Sunday.

The NFL champion Chicago Bears, prepping for their Friday night date with the College All-Stars at Chicago, went through stiff offensive and defensive drills after Coach George Halas said scouting reports show the current All-Star squad is stronger than the one which upset Green Bay last year.

The Packers, who meet St. Louis Saturday night at New Orleans, examined pictures of the club's first introquad game and Coac Vince Lombardi lauded the performances of rookie tackles Steve Wright, Alabama, and John McDowell, St. John's, Minn.

The Cardinals held a 90-minute workout in 95-degree weather, stressing offensive patterns to be employed against the Packers.

The Baltimore Colts will play their intrasquad charity game, rained out Monday night, tonight. The Municipal Stadium game is expected to draw 40,000 fans.

Letters To The Press

Dear Sir:
I wish to register a public protest in regards to the way the area softball teams were denied entry in the district tournament. It should be called the city tournament because you will notice that there is not one outside team entered.

The starting date and the entry deadline were well advertised in the past.

Your local paper had no such announcements this year and I think it was premeditated on the part of the softball association.

Our team has entered the district tournament every year we had a team and records will show we always represented this district well.

Why bother with the district tournament, the city tournament was already held?

Sincerely,
Bob Triest
Powers-Spalding

(Editor's note: Bob Jensen, Escanaba district softball commissioner, states: "The ruling is this: All teams entering district tournament play must belong to a sanctioned league, or be sanctioned by the deadline of July 15. The team from Powers, and others, did not meet this requirement.")

Cubs Will Meet Flint In First Tourney Start

The Esby Cubs will carry the colors of the Upper Peninsula into the state American Legion baseball tournament which opens at Menominee Friday morning.

Tournament officials today announced the schedule of first round games to be played Friday morning and afternoon.

Escanaba, representing the Upper Peninsula Fifth Zone for the 10th consecutive year, will kick off the state tourney at 9:30 Friday morning against Flint, champion of Zone Three in Lower Michigan. Flint was an Escanaba victim in the tournament last year.

The Friday afternoon action at Menominee will begin at 3:30. Escanaba drew the bye and will not see action in the afternoon. Flint meets Bay City in one session and Battle Creek takes on Detroit Edison in the other game.

Escanaba will return to action at 9:30 Saturday morning against an opponent to be determined by the draw following Friday afternoon games. The tourney, a double elimination affair, will continue through Saturday afternoon with the championship scheduled for Sunday.

Selection of the sites for the tourney games will be made this afternoon by George Fredrick of Detroit, chairman of the state American Legion baseball program. There are two diamonds at Menominee and one in Marinette which are available for tournament action.

Kiwanis defeated Harnischfeger 11 to 4 in the opening game of the Babe Ruth League tournament.

Kiwanis broke a close contest wide open with a barrage of seven runs in the sixth inning. The big blow was a bases-loaded triple by Bernie Larson.

John Way was the winning pitcher allowing three hits while fanning 12 and giving up 11 walks. Gerry Richards and Pete Ross shared the hill for Harnischfeger with Richards taking the loss. The two gave up 13 hits, walked seven and struck out two.

Way was also the leading hitter with three singles followed by Bill Peltin, Steve Miketnac and Bernie Larson with two each.

Kiwanis faces Mead Wednesday at 5:30 at the Babe Ruth Field.

Crash Driver Charged With Drunk Driving

Lee Allen Browning, 21, of 711 Deer St., who was involved in an accident Saturday at 3 p.m. on M94 near Ripplewood farm, pleaded guilty Monday in Justice Court to a charge of driving under influence of liquor, on complaint of the sheriff's department.

Fine of $75 and costs of $4.30 and a 5-day jail sentence were levied by Justice Howard Magoon. Alternative is 30 days in jail.

Browning was driving north and came behind a car, turning off M94, operated by Herbert Peterson, 33, of 1511 S. 15th St., Escanaba. The right rear fender of the Peterson car was ripped off and Browning lost control, hit an electric wire and trees.

His car spun around and was facing south after the mishap. He skidded 390 feet, Sheriff Lloyd Gray reported. His car was demolished.

Browning was treated for a cracked rib and sprained left hand. His hand was pinned by the steering wheel and was pried free by persons at the scene, the sheriff said. Two teenager passengers with Browning, Peterson, his wife and five children escaped injury.

Innocent Driver Dies More Often

Results of a study of traffic fatalities in Washtenaw County, by the University of Michigan medical school, showed 35 per cent of the innocent drivers involved in fatal traffic accidents lost their lives, or more than the at fault drivers, who died in 33 per cent of the cases, Dr. Donald Huelke, of the U-M department of anatomy said Monday in a Rotary program.

Showing slides of the accidents investigated, through cooperation with police officials, Dr. Huelke showed that 49 per cent of the persons killed could have been saved if they had worn seat belts with a shoulder harness and 39 per cent, with seat belts but without the harness.

The materials in seat belts have "some give" or flexibility, so a padded dash is also a necessity. Five accidents have been investigated thus far, he said, in which rear seat passengers flew forward on impact and landed on drivers or front seat passengers. Rear as well as front seat belts are important, he stated, and for children as well as adults. Front seat belts will be standard equipment on all cars beginning Jan. 1.

Motorists can do much to lessen the chance of a fatality through ejection, and to minimize injuries, by wearing seat belts. Another good safety practice, besides putting on the seat belt while still in the garage, for all trips, is to push down the inside door lock button. Tests have shown that it is virtually impossible to "pop open" the doors on roll-overs, according to information of test drivers, Dr. Huelke said.

The U-M tests showed 75 per cent of those ejected could have been saved by wearing seat belts. A fourth of the 126 killed in 90 accidents were killed by ejection, he said.

The danger of fire or submersion in an accident are one in 200 and "you can figure that with a seat belt, you will probably have lesser injuries and be able to do more in an accident to get yourself out," he stated.

The speaker was introduced by James McLaughlin.

City Manager V. L. Fletcher pondered and declared: "There has been no tangible benefit to the city from past membership in the association." So, the city commission of this desert resort voted to drop membership in the National Rivers and Harbors Congress.

Casual Noises Drowned Out

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — At last it has been explained — there is a real scientific reason why your youngster likes to study while his transistor radio is going full-blast.

According to Prof. G. R. Bozzoli, Johannesburg noise expert and dean of the local university's faculty of engineering, the reason is simple. "A radio drowns casual noises between periods of silence. It is these casual noises from outside, such as a passing car, which really interrupt their studies."

Govt. To Buy Red Cherries

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department said Monday it bought 630,000 cases of canned red tart pitted cherries—many of them in Michigan.

The purchase is to bolster producer prices of this year's record cherry crop and to supply the national school lunch program, the department said.

The largest purchase from a single bidder was 82,000 cases from the F and M Packing Co. of Traverse City.

Purchases were made from 26 bidders at prices ranging from $3.91 to $4.65 a case. Lowest prices were paid in big producing and processing centers in Michigan and highest prices in areas of smaller production.

The department said the purchase represents about 5.5 servings per child taking part in the lunch program.

Right-Of-Way Widths Studied

LANSING (AP) — The Highway Department will study right-of-way widths along its nearly 10,000 miles of highways with an eye toward possibly returning excess land to private owners.

Highway Commissioner Jo C. Mackie said today in testimony prepared for an interim Senate study committee on roadside advertising the question won't be decided until at least next year.

By then, a four-man governor-appointed highway commission will have replaced Mackie under terms of the new constitution.

Mackie said highway rights of way vary in width because of long-standing policy to increase scenic values in some areas by maintaining forest buffers along routes.

"Unfortunately, the program did not mature nationally due World War II and subsequent changes in national policy," he said.

Now, he said, the state must reassess the rights-of-way "against our predictable highway needs to 1980 because it would be a serious waste of the taxpayers' money to return right-of-way today if we had to buy it back tomorrow."

He said if excess rights of way are located, the commission could consider selling them to individuals or turning them over to other public agencies for use.

Heidenreich To Complete Bank Course At U-M

Dale A. Heidenreich, auditor, the State Bank of Escanaba, will be graduated from the NABAC School for Bank Audit, Control and Operation this summer. He returned to the University of Wisconsin in Madison, Aug. 2-15, to complete the school's third year course.

Graduation exercises are to be held Aug. 14 with Joseph W. Barr, chairman of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp scheduled to deliver the commencement address. The School, sponsored by NABAC, is a three-year program with limited attendance.

It is the only professional banking school designed to provide people with bank accounting, auditing and control responsibilities an opportunity to expand their knowledge in this field. To graduate, students must attend for three years and complete assigned extension problems between sessions. The School's faculty includes approximately 50 of the nation's leading bankers in the areas taught. Classroom work is augmented by informal evening seminars.

Heidenreich has been associated with the State Bank of Escanaba for seven years. He resides at 1022 9th Ave. S.

"Herbert doesn't ride the waves... the waves ride him."

The Johnson Men

WHILE THE over-all administration picture remains basically the same for President Johnson as it did for the late John Kennedy, the immediate group, the inner circle of advisers and assistants, has been a changing thing. Pictured above are the LBJ "brand" of men. Bill Moyers is officially the deputy director of the Peace Corps, but his duties also include appointments and scheduling of trips and appearances for the President. George Reedy, the only non-Texan among the Johnson men, has replaced Pierre Salinger as press secretary. Horace Busby, a talented writer, fills the shoes in part of Ted Sorensen. Jack Valenti is "chief" Presidential aide. Walter Jenkins serves the President as administrative assistant, handling any number of functions.

Johnson Silent Regarding VP Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota and Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York both say that President Johnson has not discussed the vice presidency with them.

Humphrey, the assistant Senate Democratic leader, and a fellow Minnesotan, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, are considered the leading possibilities among potential running mates for Johnson.

Thursday the President eliminated from consideration all members of the Cabinet, including Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Wagner's weekend visit to the White House stirred speculation that Johnson was seriously considering him for the No. 2 spot on the Democratic ticket.

But upon his return to New York Sunday, Wagner said "there was no discussion" about the vice presidency. Rather, the mayor said, he and Johnson "talked about the situation in New York, the poverty program, housing and the international situation."

Humphrey, in a Sunday interview on the CBS radio-television program "Face the Nation," was asked if he agreed with reports that he is a likely first choice as Johnson's running mate.

"I surely haven't heard it from the President," he replied. A day earlier Humphrey told an interviewer: "I feel it looks as good as one could hope for."

The Minnesota senator said Sunday he was not advised in advance of Johnson's Thursday announcement.

In Boston, Atty. Gen. Kennedy said he has been encouraged by persons urging him to seek the Democratic vice presidential nomination.

Humphrey used his television appearance Sunday to take a crack at Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater, saying that most Americans do not want a president "who has a nervous finger on the nuclear trigger."

Blasts Goldwater

Humphrey also blasted Goldwater in a speech Saturday at an "LBJ barbecue" in Martinsburg, W.Va.

He said "there is a vast difference between patriotism and extremism and if any office seeker cannot make that distinction he is not worthy of support."

While speculation continued over who would be the No. 2 man on the Democratic ticket, the man already picked for that job on the GOP ticket — Rep. William E. Miller of New York — charged Sunday that Democratic political machines created conditions which led to violent racial clashes in northern cities.

Miller, appearing on the ABC radio-television program "Issues and Answers," called for more "moral persuasion and moral example" by President Johnson to curb further violence.

AFTER 60 YEARS in the business of barn straightening, Pete Carver says he's "never lost a barn." Behind him leans one of his ailing patients.

Leaning Barns Rescued By Pete

MT. JULIET, Tenn. (AP) — Pete Carver is a barn straightener — the best in the business.

Carver, lanky and agile for his 77 years, believes he's the only barn straightener in the world. And it's a good living, too, he says.

"I got started easy," he recalls. "I was real young and there was this small old building on our farm which began to sway. I fooled around and got it straight and upright. And

I was in the business of straightening barns. "You might say I was a born barn straightener."

Carver estimates he straightens about a dozen barns a year. And he prides himself that he's "never lost a barn," which is to say none has ever collapsed under his style of straightening surgery.

"I work with cables and a winch, and what you got to keep in mind is to be very patient," he says. "You just can't jerk a barn straight. The structure has to be 'inched' into position — and somewhere along the way you got to pause and let it settle.

"And you got to know where to pause or it won't settle correctly."

What's his fee for straightening a sagging barn? It depends. "I don't try to hold anybody up with a high fee," Carver says. "Folks with crooked barns know that I am not going to crook them with a high price."

Natives Kill 150 Africans

LUSAKA, Northern Rhodesia (AP)—Warriors of the fanatical Lumpa sect massacred 150 Africans today in a raid nearly 200 miles from the scene of the Lumpa rampage last week in which at least 120 died.

A government spokesman said a mob of Prophets Alice Len-shina's followers attacked government offices, killed an African policeman and five children and stole 10 rifles.

Then the mob swept through an African compound, murdering, pillaging, and looting. Troops were being airlifted to the area from Chinsali, where army headquarters were set up last week to deal with the sect.

The onslaught today was thought to be a vengeance raid for the killing of 75 sect members who charged troops at the sect's headquarters at Sione.

The government of this British African territory, soon to become independent, has assigned about 2,200 troops and police to crush a campaign of murder, arson and looting by followers of the prophets.

Mongols Blast Neighbor China

MOSCOW (AP) — Mongolia has condemned Red China's political war against the Soviet Union and strongly urged an early meeting of the world's Communist parties to discuss the Moscow-Peking struggle.

Pravda, the Soviet Communist party newspaper, published the Mongolian attack, which was made in a letter June 12 to the Chinese Communist party.

It was the sharpest anti-Chinese statement ever made by the Mongolians.

The statement accused the Chinese of seeking to split the world Communist movement and take over leadership from the Soviet party.

Take-Home Pay Goes Into Kitty

NEW YORK (AP) — A build-up in savings is reported this summer. This reverses the trend earlier in the year. And it adds a new chapter, however brief it may prove to be, to the business and government's hardy whodunit: What will the American consumer do with his money?

Retail sales are still rising. The American consumer isn't pinching pennies yet. The total of personal incomes keeps growing and collectively he has more to spend. So he is spending a little more. Also, federal income tax rates are lower and he has more to spend. So he's spending a little more of that.

But in the first weeks after the tax cut, his extra dollars seemed to be going largely toward trimming his debt load. This is a kind of savings in itself. Charge accounts and other forms of personal short-term debt shrunk a bit. And while the consumer was paying his bills, his savings accounts in various institutions either were not growing at all or at a noticeably reduced rate.

Then sales of many big-ticket items, like autos and household appliances, were healthier than in recent years. The taking on of new installment credit to finance such sales was noted.

From this, government and some corporate economists decided that the tax cut was achieving its avowed purpose, spurring economic growth. People were buying, so industry could produce, and expand to produce more.

But now the savings institutions report that the savings rate is increasing again — and this time without the stimulus of any new increase in interest rates on savings. Having settled their more nagging bills, some Americans apparently are putting away more of their increased take-home pay.

That still leaves money enough in the country to raise the total of retail sales. And the outlook for fall business is good, most merchants agree.

Manufacturers have been more inspired by the tax cuts and depreciation allowances. Their spending for expansion and modernization increases with each new report. And most of them have the sales and profits gains to back up their optimism for the future.

Savings by consumers, so long as total spending isn't cut, is no drag in itself on the economy.

The funds pouring into the institutions are available for the financing of the growth which industry is starting or planning.

Backlog Funds To Go Overseas Officials Say

WASHINGTON (AP) — Foreign aid officials said today a record low backlog of unused aid funds is being carried into overseas assistance operations for the coming year.

The revised figures are a matter of some pride with the Agency for International Development which has passed them on to the Senate in advance of final action on the foreign aid bill.

One argument of congressional critics has been that the aid program has been too fat with a big backlog of money from previous appropriations. AID chief David E. Bell, a former budget director, has pledged improved efficiency.

Last year, according to revised figures, the aid program had $650 million from past appropriations in addition to the $3 billion in new money voted by Congress. In some years more than $1 billion has been available beyond the amount supplied from fresh appropriations.

New estimates being submitted to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee showed today that only $22 million remains uncommitted from previous appropriations and $213 million is expected to be recovered during the year from commitments to past projects which were not carried out.

Thus about $235 million would be available for foreign aid in the new fiscal year in addition to whatever Congress approves out of President Johnson's "barebones" request for $3.5 billion in new funds.

Both the $22 million in carry-over and the $213 million in recoveries set new lows, according to AID accounts.

Pontiac Coed Represents Mich.

DETROIT (AP)—Susan Lynn Pill, a 19-year-old Michigan State University sophomore from Pontiac, will represent Michigan in the Miss U.S.A. beauty pageant here Aug. 31.

Susan won the honor at the Detroit Boat Club Saturday night in competition with 29 other beauties. She measures 36-25-35, with 116 pounds distributed over a 5-foot-5 frame.

Miss U.S.A. will represent the United States in the Miss World competition at London, England, later this year.

Owners Bite Is Worse Than Doggie's Bark

LANSING (AP)—State parks officials are having a tough time deciding which is worse—the bark of dog-owners or the bit on campers without canines.

Dog owners were complaining, said Art Elmer, director of the Conservation Department's Parks and Recreation Division, because they were being separated from other campers in state parks and felt they weren't getting choice locations.

But now so many people use the parks, the department has had to virtually abandon this policy and put people wherever there is space.

Result: biting complaints from non-dog owners. "We're right in the middle, as usual," said Elmer.

The department attempted last year to impose a ban on dogs in state parks but the Conservation Commission held it up to await more information and study.

Elmer said a public hearing on the issue will be held sometime this fall.

The policy of separating dog owners from non-dog owners was instituted in an attempt to "keep everybody happy," Elmer said, but it hasn't worked out.

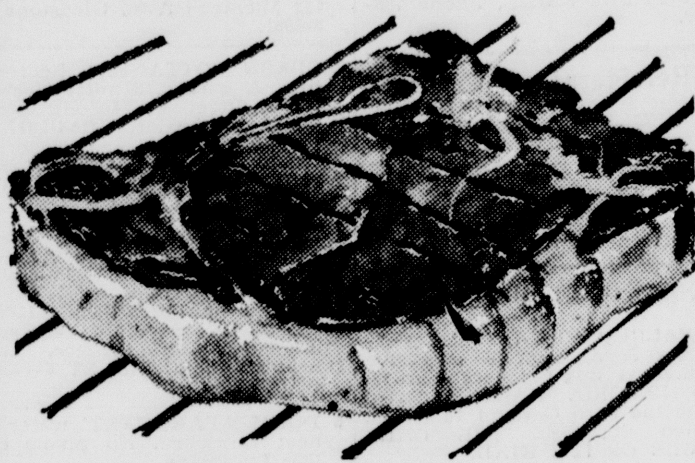

"There was no intent on our part to penalize the dog owners," he said. "But there have been complaints from some." "Now the campgrounds are full all the time and we just have to put people wherever we can find a vacancy, dogs or no dogs. So we're getting complaints from the people without dogs."
